DIY

ART FROM THE Heart

by: Jane Monzures

dish by Jane

Share love that lasts more than just one day with heart-felt homemade decorations.

This "hanging hearts" chandelier is a festive and easy way to celebrate Valentine's Day.

YOU'LL NEED:

- white, pink, red and patterned card stock
- baker's twine
- glue stick
- black marker
- hole punch

Make heart cut-outs in small, medium and large sizes, with the small size in white stock and the medium and large sizes in colored and patterned stock. (You can draw the hearts freehand or trace around a cookie cutter to make your templates.)

On the small, white hearts, write loving sentiments in black marker.

I like to use one- or two-word sentiments such as:

- Love You
- You're Mine
- Kisses
- Love
- Hugs
- Be Mine
- My Love
- Happy

Glue a sentiment heart on top of a medium heart, and then glue the medium heart on top of a large heart, each layered evenly to create a border effect. Repeat these steps on the reverse of the big heart so that a sentiment appears on both sides.

Punch a hole in the top and bottom of each big heart. Connect them with twine, then hang them from the ceiling, a light fixture or existing chandelier.

There you have it! Love is in the air with these hanging hearts!

It makes for the perfect addition to hang over your kitchen table or in front of your bathroom mirror so you're reminded every day to speak, act and live from a place of love!